

Flawlessly Executed Events

Whether you're communicating to associates, investors or customers, PGI can accommodate your business needs with a level of professionalism unmatched in the industry. Our suite of operator-assisted solutions provides the event management expertise, technological innovation and guaranteed security you need to deliver your message with confidence.

Professional Meetings Every Time

PGi offers two levels of service for you to choose from—PremiereCallSM Event and Premiere-CallSM Auditorium®, combining features and services to create unique solutions for your most important engagements.

All service levels include an experienced conferencing expert to help you plan and conduct successful meetings. With your goals and meeting scope in mind, that expert arranges reservations, coordinates specialists to run the meeting and ensures delivery of post-conference reports and recordings.

Our Experts Focus on Your Goals: Our client services representatives boast an average tenure of four years and are true meeting pros.

Professional Care: We offer a full range of professional assistance, including a dedicated event manager and skilled operators. These experts undergo months of intensive training, specialized courses and ongoing assessment to provide the most professional service when it counts - when you have an audience on the line.

Security & Reliability: From the latest encryption technology and industry-leading conference security features, to an advanced fault-tolerant and redundant architecture, PGI delivers some of the highest levels of security screening in the industry and provides 99.95% error-free performance.
